Bio:

Chris Johnson is the Records Manager at the Minnesota Department of Health where she leads and directs all aspects of the records and information management program. She is a Minnesota native with a strong appreciation for well told stories and she appreciates the value in responsible recordkeeping that makes telling those stories possible. She has a BA in History and a motto that “there is more than one way to do a thing,” which has been incredibly useful while working in complex and multifaceted government recordkeeping systems for over three decades.

Chris has wonderful spouse, three grown sons and a new daughter-in-law. She spends some of her free time at the Chisago County Historical Society putting order to their recordkeeping system, while filling the rest of her time dabbling in arts and crafts projects. She is currently working with stained glass.
